Subsidiary Address

Hai Yen Company Limited No. 50, Tran Phu Street, Nha Trang City, Khanh Hoa Province

On July 1st, 2004, the Company signed a joint venture agreement with General Import-Export Company III ("Centrimex") to establish Hai Yen Company Limited ("Hai Yen") with headquarters registered at No. 50, Tran Phu Street, Nha Trang City, Khanh Hoa Province. On October 9, 2007, Centrimex was merged into Food Technology Investment Company ("Focovev"). After the merger, Focovev did not agree with the interest proportion of the joint venture partners in Hai Yen. Accordingly, the Company sued Focovev to the People's Court of Khanh Hoa Province ("Court") to resolve this dispute. On the date of this financial statement, the Court issued its final decision on this dispute on August 19th, 2024. Therefore, at the date of these financial statements, the Company's appropriate interest rate in Hai Yen has been officially determined.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

2.1. Accounting standards and system

The Company's financial statements are presented in Vietnamese Dong ("VND") in accordance with the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System and Vietnamese Accounting Standards issued by the Ministry of Finance according to:

- Decision No. 149/2001/QD-BTC dated December 31, 2001 on promulgating four Vietnamese Accounting Standards (Phase 1);
- Decision No. 165/2002/QD-BTC dated December 31, 2002 on promulgating six Vietnamese Accounting Standards (Phase 2);
- Decision No. 234/2003/QD-BTC dated December 30, 2003 on promulgating six Vietnamese Accounting Standards (Phase 3);
- Decision No. 12/2005/QD-BTC dated February 15, 2005 on promulgating six Vietnamese Accounting Standards (Phase 4); and
- Decision No. 100/2005/QD-BTC dated December 28, 2005 on promulgating four Vietnamese Accounting Standards (Phase 5)

Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements and their usage are not intended for those who are not informed about accounting systems, principles and practices in Vietnam. Furthermore, it is not intended to present the financial position, income statement and cash flows in accordance with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in countries and territories other than Vietnam.

2.2. Applied accounting documentation system: General Journal system

2.3. Annual accounting period

Annual accounting period of the Company is annually from 01/01 to 31/12.

2.4. Reporting currency unit: VND

3.SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, cash in bank, short-term investments with a maturity of no more than 3 months from the date of investment, high liquidity, and easily converted into specific amounts of money and with insignificant risk of conversion into cash at the reporting time.

3.2 Inventory

Inventories are presented at the cost incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition and net realizable value.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of the inventories in the ordinary course of business minus the estimated costs of completion and estimated selling expenses.

The company applies the perpetual inventory method to account for inventory with the value determined as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

No. 29, Ton Duc Thang Street, Ben Nghe Ward, District 1, City. Ho Chi Minh.

For the quarter I ended on March 31, 2025

- Goods, raw materials and tools and supplies
- Cost of production, work in progress and finished goods
- Purchase costs according to the weighted average method.
- Cost of production, work in progress and finished products Cost of raw material, direct labor and related production overheads are allocated based on normal operation according to the weighted average method.

Allowance for decrease in inventory value

Allowance for decrease in inventory value is made for the expected loss due to impairment (due to devaluation, poor quality, obsolescence, etc.) that may occur to the materials, finished goods, and other inventories owned by the Company based on faithful evidence of impairment at the end of the annual accounting period.

The increase or decrease in the allowance for inventory is accounted for in the cost of goods sold on the income statement.

3.3 Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are presented at the carrying amount of accounts receivable from customers and other receivables after deducting allowance made for doubtful accounts

Allowance for doubtful debts represents the value of receivables that the Company does not expect to collect at the end of the fiscal year. Increases or decreases in allowance balances are accounted for in corporate administrative expenses on the income statement.

3.4 Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are presented as historical cost minus accumulated depreciation

The historical cost of a tangible fixed asset includes the purchase price and all other related costs directly related to bringing the asset into a ready-to-use state

The costs of purchasing, upgrading and replacing tangible fixed assets are recognized as an increase in the historical cost of the asset and maintenance and repair costs are accounted for in the income statement when incurred.

When tangible fixed assets are sold or disposed, any gain or loss arising from the disposal of the asset (the difference between the net proceeds from the sale of the asset and the carrying amount of the asset) is accounted for in the income statement.

3.5 Lease

Determining whether an agreement is a lease depends on the nature of the agreement at its inception: whether its performance is dependent on the use of a certain asset and whether the agreement includes a provision on the right to use the property or not.

A lease agreement is classified as a finance lease if, under the lease contract, the lessor transfers most of the risks and benefits associated with ownership of the asset to the lessee. All other lease agreements are classified as operating leases.

In case the Company is the lessee

Rent payments under operating lease contracts are accounted for in the income statement on a straight-line basis throughout the term of the lease contract.

In case the Company is the lessor

Assets under operating leases are recorded as investment properties on the balance sheet. Initial direct costs to negotiate an operating lease agreement are recognized in the income statement when incurred.

Rental income is accounted for in the income statement on a straight-line basis throughout the rental period.

3.6 Intangible fixed assets

Intangible fixed assets are presented at historical cost minus accumulated depreciation.

The historical cost of an intangible fixed asset includes the purchase price and costs directly related to bringing the asset into a ready-to-use state.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

VIET NAM FUMIGATION JOINT STOCK COMPANY

No. 29, Ton Duc Thang Street, Ben Nghe Ward, District 1, City. Ho Chi Minh.

For the quarter I ended on March 31, 2025

The costs of upgrading and replacing intangible fixed assets are recognized as an increase in the historical cost of the asset and other costs are accounted for in the income statement when incurred.

When intangible fixed assets are sold or disposed, any gain or loss arising from the disposal of the asset (the difference between the net proceeds from the sale of the asset and the carrying amount of the asset) is accounted for in the income statement.

Land use rights

Land use rights are recognized as intangible fixed assets, representing the value of land use rights purchased or leased by the Company. Prepaid land rent for land lease contracts issued with Land Use Rights Certificates is recognized as intangible fixed assets according to the provisions of Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC issued by the Ministry of Finance. on April 25, 2013 guiding the management, use and depreciation of fixed assets ("Circular 45").

The useful life of land use rights is valuated as infinite or limited-term. Accordingly, land use rights with a specific term represent the value of land rent that is amortized over the lease period, while infinite land use rights are not amortized.

3.7 Investment property

Investment property is measured at historical cost including related transaction costs minus accumulated depreciation. For investment property held for sale, the Company does not depreciate but determines impairment loss.

Costs related to investment property that arise after initial recognition are accounted for in the remaining value of the investment property when the Company is likely to obtain future economic benefits in the future as greater than the initially assessed performance of that investment property.

Depreciation and amortization of investment properties are charged on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the properties as follows:

Houses and structures

20 years

Investment property is no longer presented on the balance sheet after it has been sold or after the investment property is no longer in use and it is deemed that no future economic benefits will be obtained from its disposal. The difference between the net proceeds from the sale of the asset and the carrying amount of the investment property is recognized in the income statement in the year of disposal.

3.8 Depreciation and amortization

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets and amortization of intangible fixed assets are calculated using the straightline method over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

Houses and structures	5-50 years
Machinery and equipment	5-7 years
Transports	6-10 years
Office equipment	3-7 years
Others	3-6 years
Software	2-5 years
Land use rights with a specific term	20 - 50 years

3.9 Construction in progress

Construction in progress costs include costs directly related to the repair of the Company's offices, factories, and procurement of machinery and equipment that have not been completed at the end of the fiscal year.

3.10 Borrowing cost

Borrowing costs include loan interest and other costs incurred directly related to the Company's loans and are recognized in the income statement when incurred.

No. 29, Ton Duc Thang Street, Ben Nghe Ward, District 1, City. Ho Chi Minh.

For the quarter I ended on March 31, 2025

3.11 Prepaid expense

Prepaid expenses include short-term prepaid expenses and long-term prepaid expenses on the balance sheet and allocated over the prepayment period of the cost or over the period in which economic benefits are expected to be generated.

3.12 Investments

Joint ventures

Investments in joint ventures over which the Company has joint control are presented using the cost method.

Profit distributions from accumulated net profits of joint venture companies after the date the Company has joint control are recognized in the income statement. Other distributions are considered as returns of investments and are subtracted from the investment value.

Investment on other entities

Investments in other entities are recognized at cost.

Methodology to make provision on investments

Provision for devaluation of investments is made when there is solid evidence that there has been a decline in the value of these investments at the end of the financial year.

Increases or decreases in provision balances are accounted for as financial expenses in the income statement.

3.13 Accounts payable and accrued expense

Accounts payable and accrued expense are accounted for amounts to be paid in the future for goods and services received, whether or not billed by suppliers to the Company.

3.14 Transaction Using Foreign currency

Transactions in currencies other than the Company's reporting currency, VND, are accounted for at the actual exchange rate on the date of the transaction according to the following principles:

- Transactions generating receivables are accounted for at the buying exchange rate of the commercial bank where the Company appoints the customer to pay; and
- Transactions generating payables are accounted for at the selling exchange rate of the commercial bank where the Company plans to conduct the transaction.

At the end of the annual accounting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are revalued at the actual exchange rate at the balance sheet date according to the following principles:

- Monetary items classified as assets are revalued according to the buying exchange rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly conducts transactions; and
- Monetary items classified as liabilities are revalued at the selling exchange rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly conducts transactions.

All foreign exchange gain/loss are accounted for in the income statement.

3.15 Treasury shares

Equity instruments repurchased by the Company (treasury shares) are recognized at historical cost and deducted from equity. The Company does not recognize gains (losses) on the purchase, sale, issuance or cancellation of its equity instruments.

3.16 Net profit allocation

Net profit after corporate income tax can be distributed to shareholders after approval by the Annual General Meeting, and after appropriating reserve funds in accordance with the Company's Charter and Vietnamese Law.

Dvidends

Revenue is recognized when the Company's right to receive dividend payments is established.

Interests

Revenue is recognized when interests arises on an accrual basis (taking into account the yield on the asset) unless recoverability is uncertain.

Rental

Income from property rental under operating lease contracts is accounted for in the income statement on a straight-line basis throughout the lease term.

3.18 Taxation

Current income tax

3

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

No. 29, Ton Duc Thang Street, Ben Nghe Ward, District 1, City. Ho Chi Minh.

For the quarter I ended on March 31, 2025

Income tax assets and income tax liabilities for the current and prior years are determined by the amounts expected to be recovered from or pay to the tax departments, based on applicable tax rates and tax laws in effect until the end of the annual accounting period.

Current income tax is recognized in the income statement, except when it relates to an item recognized directly to equity, in which case the income tax are also recognized directly in equity.

The Company may only offset current income tax assets and current income tax liabilities when the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset current income tax assets against current income tax liabilities and the Company may offset current income tax assets and current income tax liabilities. The Company intends to settle its current income tax liabilities and current income tax assets on a net basis.

Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is determined on temporary differences at the date of accounting period between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in the financial statements.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- Deferred tax liabilities arise from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that has no effect on accounting profit or taxable profit (or loss) at the time of transaction; and
- Taxable temporary differences associated with investments in associates and joint venture investments where the Company has the ability to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference and is certain of the difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets should be recognized for all deductible temporary differences, carry forward into unrealised tax losses and unused tax credits, when future taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences, unrealised tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised, except:

- A deferred tax asset arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (or tax loss) at the time of the transaction; and
- All deductible temporary differences arising from investments in associates and joint ventures where it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and there is taxable profit to utilize that temporary difference.

The carrying amount of deferred corporate income tax assets must be reviewed at the end of the annual accounting period and must be reduced to the extent ensured that there will be enough taxable profit allows the benefit of part or all of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Previously unrecognized deferred corporate income tax assets are reviewed at the balance sheet date and are recognized to the extent ensured that future taxable profits will be available to utilise this unrecognized deferred tax asset.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are determined at the tax rates expected to apply for the fiscal year when the assets are realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates. and tax laws in effect at the end of the annual accounting period.

Deferred income taxes are recognized in the income statement except when the income tax arises in association with an item recognized directly to equity, in which case the deferred income tax are also recorded directly into equity.

A company may only offset deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities when the enterprise has a legal right to offset current tax assets against current income tax liabilities and other liabilities. These deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to corporate income taxes administered by the same tax department:

- for the same taxable unit; or
- The Company intends to settle current income tax liabilities and current income tax assets on a net basis or realize the assets simultaneously with the settlement of liabilities in each future period when material amounts of deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets to be settled or recovered.

3.19 Related parties

Parties are considered to be related parties of the Company if one party has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the other party or significantly influence the other party in making financial and operating decisions, or where the Company and the other party are subject to joint control or joint significant influence. Related parties may be companies or individuals, including close members of their families.
